Objective

My goal is to set up my own graphic and web business, where I can utilize my art, music and web design skills and hone my business and marketing skills. I also want to become a novelist.

Education

Clonlara School
1289 Jewett
Ann Arbor, MI 48104

2008-2011
GPA: [3.61]

- I took three courses with Berklee Online School of Music: Orchestration 1, Game Audio Design and Film Scoring, and completed a certificate in Orchestrating and Producing Music for Film and Games.
- I am enrolled part-time at Warren County Community College, taking Introductory Chemistry and Foundations for Success. I will be full-time next semester.

Experience

- I worked with Peter Callahan, a professional graphic designer, who has created designs for various businesses including M&M Mars. We worked together to illustrate a children's book I wrote, Terror of Porridge, and to increase my understanding of art and graphic design.
- I created my own website for the book Terror of Porridge, using HTML and Javascript. I created all the art assets, backgrounds and pictures for the site, as well as a small game based on the book.
- I wrote the music for the Centipede's songs in the Growing Stage production of James and the Giant Peach, scoring them for ukelele.
- I took music lessons with Thom Schepis, a professional pianist and organist, studying both how to play musical pieces and music theory.
- I entered a musical piece to the International Academy of Astronautics Humans in Space Symposium Youth Art Competition. My piece won third place, in my age category, and was played at the Symposium exhibition.
- I entered articles for several issues of the Homeschoolers Quarterly, a literary magazine for teenage homeschoolers.
- I worked with, and took a course by, published novelist Bill Mesce, who has been a great inspiration to me as a young writer. He taught me a lot about both writing and the publishing business.
