

Final Scene

(Claude and Bob have escaped, tied up Joe and are waiting for Krash to leave his office in order to ambush him.)

When are you leaving?
Claude (sarcastic)

Bob

He works all night?

Claude

Nah, he'll go home.

Krash (talking on the phone)

The takeover is complete?

Bob

When will he finish?

Claude

Ah, this plan's stupid.

Bob

We're going in there?

Claude

Better than waiting.

Bob

Let's go, then!

(They burst into Krash's office, Bob grabbing his arms and Claude yanking the phone away.)

Claude

Freeze! It's the police!

Krash

Hey! It's you!

Bob

We've got you now!

Krash

You don't scare me!

Claude

We should.

Krash

And why is that?

Claude

Because of this.

(Claude shows him the front page of the New York Times, which shows a big picture of Krash under the words Corporate CEO Krash's Criminal Past Revealed!)

Krash

What the- No!!!

Claude

You're finished, Krash.

Krash

Why did you...

Claude

Because you ruined me!

Bob

And you're a big meanie!

Claude

And you deserved it.

Krash

I may be ruined...

Claude

But?...

Krash

I'll go out laughing!

(He presses a button on his desk that reads Security. And presses it again. Nothing happens.)

Bob

You might be looking...

Claude

...For this!

(He holds up the Security button's power cable, snipped in two.)

Krash

Bah! I hate you!

Claude

That's the best you-

Krash (Eyes welling up with tears)

You big... meanies, you!

Bob

You have the-

Krash

You aughta be ashamed!

Bob

-The right-

Claude

Uh... Bob?

Krash

I'm telling! Oof!

(Bob knocks him out with the big, over-sized phone on his desk. Krash crumples to the floor.)

Bob

-right to remain silent.

Claude

To the police station!