

The Dinosaur Musical

When a huge rock strikes the earth and smoke and dust blot out the sun, king Marcus, a Tyrannosaurus Rex, signs the Treaty of Meat to unite the dinosaurs. The Treaty of Meat tells the meat-eating dinosaurs that they cannot eat other dinosaurs. They must eat greens and vegetables. But his wicked advisors have other plans. When king Marcus dies, they convince his easily manipulated son, prince Quincy, to break the Treaty of Meat. What will happen to the plant eating dinosaurs?!

I really enjoyed this play 1) because I like dinosaurs (I mean, who doesn't?), 2) because I really liked the acting, and 3) because I loved the music and songs. It is a really good show, and I wholly recommend it.
